12:40 noon End RV

Lots of plants and some kind of trees but not the typical trees with a thick brown tree trunk. Like a jungle. Green floor, the plantlife is close down against the floor. Some harder structure or wall to the right, could be smaller tree trunks or rock there. Upward reveals a large white tarp-like top like from a camping in a jungle the kind of tarp placed upward to provide a roof. No humans were detected, and not really about manmade structures such as streets or houses or poles, this was like a messy unkempt nature.

I now see the target, then create decoy that I see, and no self-matching.

Comment from seeing the target image: Wow! I said out loud. Very good! RV is fun again (compared to the previous two protocols W1D1SM and W1D2SM)! This is so good it is bringing tears to my eyes (because of having done several previous sessions under the problematic conditions and now I see this kind of quality!).

Target was the unkempt garden with the arched stone arches, decoy was image of the moon in an otherwise clear sky.

12:49 noon End session.
