Start 5:11 PM

5:41 PM End RV

I could work for longer, the target signal is stronger (than in previous protocols and sessions in this experiment) and I have many leads to follow further on, but the amount of work into sessions here need to be constant with the work in previous sessions of this experiment.

Main element is an orange color on the right side. We have a solid hard floor whose character can be strongly felt, there is a building to the right that is larger and a smaller building to the left, buildings or structures manmade. White on top of the right-side building and orange to the left of the right-side building. Open space and open sky above. Further into page is a white structure or building. It feels like houses or steel or manmade structures. Not detected were plants, water, human, animal, movement, activity, emotion.

Target is a greenhouse. Wow this target image would have been wonderful as a target to remote view! But I did not get this for some reason.

5:45 PM End session.
