Yes a short session. This target signal is not speaking to me more than this. What I have are green treetops which seem to have a brown tree trunk that is not very thick and some wood above. It is not possible to find the floor, instead we are very high up with the tree up on a small top somewhere. There is open sky above the tree. High elevation.

I now see the target, then create and see decoy 1, then create and see decoy 2.

Target: An Asian decorated plate. The correlation is very poor or non-existent! I may have picked up on the foliage or messy pattern on the plate for the treetops and the plate is sitting up on a gray narrow mount, but the target image is not consistent with the shapes and impressions that I had from the target signal.

Decoy1: Portrait photograph of a man.

Decoy2: Catholic monument with a roof and trees behind.

9:17 AM End session.
