Main element is a black round tower or building made out of black bricks. It has a red pointy roof on top. A brown staircase leads up to it. Following toward the right from it is a red colored wall. A black wall goes around to the right, this one is not very tall, and it has actually got a railing or a low raised wall on both sides along the top, forming a walkway along the center floor for people to walk on, and people do walk here toward the direction of the red wall. A human also goes up the staircase. A human also stands in the courtyard, where the ground is solid and dark gray or medium gray. There is a cart with four wheels on the yard. Green plantlife on either side near the staircase, and to the left is a beautiful garden to walk in, with an arch that has a canopy of green foliage above and to the sides, a very beautiful garden that one could love to get lost in. A roof is over us, but above that the open sky. This target displayed a manmade habitat and with human presence and also some plantlife especially to the left. A window glass is to the left of the staircase.
