Internet Search Images C1 Target 3

Today April 16, 2019

Start 12:48 noon

One random search word blind.

As soon as I pasted in the word into the internet search bar (without seeing it) I felt a wave of heat and red color coming toward me. I am trying to locate the target signal from scratch and without this premature impression, so that makes it hard now not to think of the premature impression, the premature impression might of course also be a genuine initial impression, and so I start fighting with it and that makes the start of this session hard for that reason.

Main emphasis is on the floor, irregular shaped floor lumpy bumpy. This is nature. We are on rocks with fresh air, the ocean is nearby behind those rocks into the page. I feel salty ocean air. Wavy bumpy waves not of water but rising in the air.

Nature, algae on rocks. Red heat waves are rising up.

Probe rocks: Sleek, smooth, slippery from a thin coating of algae on them. I am out near the ocean.

Probe floor: The heat waves are rising up from here!

12:58 PM End RV.

Word was: queen

I want to give this session an F.
