Internet Search Images B6 Target 9

Today April 15, 2019

Start 2:34 PM

Six search words from random word generator, I know the words from start of session.

Rice Waist Lion Bear Table Desk

Emphasis on the bottom right corner, there is a messy green element there, above the green is a blue smooth shape. Emphasis lower right corner. It feels like we are being pulled into the lower right corner, like the blue umbrella is pushing us there. The blue is a cover screen that is over the green messy element.

The two black lines I have drawn are to show the placement that I feel of the elements, so I have to define a bottom and a top in the image; these are not actual black line elements but just part of the frame that I see.

2:40 PM Secondary stage

The blue curve growls when I touch it or screeches with a gravel kind of sound like something scraping against gravel that kind of a sound. There is protection from the curve toward the messy element.

The blue curve feels hard like plastic and is in fixed position it cannot be moved aside. The curve continues into the page like a tunnel so it is not just a thin arch it is more like a tunnel at least under the curve, not sure yet what it looks like on its bottom half if it is a full tunnel there too or just a half part. So firm and fixed in its position is the curve. No movement here. Hard firm solid is the curve.

I cannot probe any more I do not find anything else from probing, I would have probed for longer to keep trying so I do not know if there is more to find from probing.

2:45 PM End RV.

There is no fixed plastic curve cupped over a messy green in a dark space. The women's heads form curved shapes and one of those is blue but those are not what I sensed. The drawing and report was very void of impressions overall, and I cannot correlate the report that I produced, to this image.

This could have been a great target image with lots of different shapes and things to look for.

Perhaps I did not get a good target signal, but it felt as if I did. Anyhow grade is F.
