Wikimedia Judge Matching Target 3

Today June 2, 2019

Start 7:20 AM

7:43 AM End RV because I accidentally opened up the target image before I was ready with it. Since I have also not prepared a checklist before I saw the target image, this session is now ended, it is possible to check for correlation from this report as it was so far, against the target image, but I cannot write a checklist at this point and this session cannot be used for judge matching.

The blue sky is there, but nothing such as a bird. Possibly the brown things are those parts along the wires above the ground.

7:46 AM End session.

ELEMENTS

3. IE. A clear blue sky.

T. It feels wet and thick but possible to push fingers into it a bit like if it were a thick mattress. There is lots of rain water throughout this large blue element.

4. IE. A thin brown narrow long object in the lower right. A part of the brown element looks like the large end of a spoon, but brown and as if made out of wood. There is empty sky underneath this brown element.

T. The spoon rises up and then is falling down all in vertical direction. The spoon is being lifted up at a rather fast speed.

SI. We can sit in the boat that is the spoon end.

P. Feels wet and damp on the outside surface of the right-side and underneath-side of the spoon. Feels more like a natural material, not hard, not smooth, not polished. Feels like brown feathers. A thin brown wing extension extends toward the right (if spoon is head or front).

8. IE. Sensation, we are flying or falling through the air. We are high up in the sky. We are rising upward in the sky. A "rising through the air" sensation. We are falling or rising in the vertical direction. Rising up. We are going up to the brown spoon.

SE. Rain water drops lots of them throughout the big blue sky element.

IE. There is something chewy that we can chew on like a mass or a pulp, inside the spoon end of the brown boat. IT RISES UPWARD, the whole boat element is rising up.

2. SE. Small red element - unusually small - inside the spoon.

T. It is too small, and it is embedded on the inside of the spoon kind of burrowed in there.

SI. Small red element inside the brown, could indicate the brown being an animal (not human since details not consistent with a human).

P. Rain drops or water drops along the top of the brown element above/around it, and this whole system is falling down vertically.

SE. Sensation, feels dizzy and spinning around on the underside of the brown element.
