CHECKLIST

Main element(s) of emphasis/importance:

1. The floor, smooth, blueish-grayish color, at the center of target site, manmade not nature.
2. The gray element which is widest at the top and narrower downward and is like an air vent or funnel but flat on out-of-page and into-page surfaces, there is air inside it and an open top.

3. A lifeform which does not have any hair, it may have stacked scales that look like rows of U-shapes. This element is not on the floor, it is up on an overhang frame and hangs down from there, reaching its body and arm and fingers downward in an arch, it could be a lifeform or it could be a tree branch or it could be an architectural ornament on the lowest part of a roof.
4. Light yellow color is in the background and also on a pole that seems to connect to the overhang.
5. An overhang frame which is like four straight bars that make a square with empty inside, this is in the horizontal plane slightly above the ground. A pointy upside down V-shaped roof is above this overhang frame.
6. White fence posts or white teeth, these have an upside down V-shape top and there are several situated in a row with empty space in between each two.
7. Some type of bat wings are reaching downward from the overhang, these hang from the overhang. Dark color, soft, with a ripped fabric kind of appearance.

Lifeform a) human, b) animal: YES, ANIMAL

Describe: It is hanging down from the overhang that is above the floor. Its bat wings or arms with fingers reach downward but do not touch the floor, it has such appendages that are hanging downward. It does not have any hair. It might have those white pointy teeth unless the white elements are fence posts or other architectural features. Two white eyes were seen on it. It is not moving. I have not detected any thoughts or feelings from it. It could be a spider, a bat, a sloth (without hairs), a frog, a fish. Its arm has several stacked layers of rows of U-shapes like roof tiles which could mean a fish, but no water was detected. Some moisture or fluid was found within its body. It is black in color but also dark red in color, the dark red could be its internal tissues. This whole thing could also be a personification of an architectural feature that ornaments a roof, or even a tree branch that hangs down next to a house.

Plantlife: NONE

Larger trees or smaller plantlife:

Describe:

Significant water: NONE

Describe:

Sun or lamp: NO

Describe shape, size, altitude, placement, significance:

Motion: NO

Describe:

Activity/Behavior: The lifeform, if it is a lifeform, has in the past climbed up to hang down from where it is.

Describe:

Large building or construction: YES

Describe: There is a house with walls and the pointy upside down V-shaped roof, the roof has roof tiles in a repeated pattern of stacked rows. There is a pole. There is an even flat manmade floor. Possibly the white fence posts with upside down V-shaped tips and empty spaces in between. The overhang is a manmade structure which is a square frame with empty inside. The blue-gray funnel element could be the water funnel that collects rain water from a roof and guides it down a pipe.

Significant small items and how many: NONE

Describe each:

Vehicles (eg. boat, airplane, bicycle, train): NONE

Describe:

Describe floor/ground: Blueish colored smooth flat roof. No natural floor or ground was detected, no grass and no dirt and no water on the ground. The floor seems to be surrounded by white fence posts that have empty gaps in between these posts. The gray-blue funnel element could be, as it was in a first impression of it, a path that leads to this floor, though later turned into a funnel kind of structure.

Indoors or outdoors or both: Outdoors at the overhang, but the house is significant plus that no nature (other than the possible lifeform) was detected could also mean that we could be indoors.

Main elevation(s) emphasized a) below ground, b) ground, c) above ground, d) high up in sky: The main elevation is that we have this lifeform kind of thing that is hanging downward with those ripped shread fingerlike things, so our main elevation of emphasis is just above the floor, but not high up in the sky. Nothing was shown under the ground, and nothing high up in the sky, so mainly just a few meters above the ground as well as the floor level itself was shown.

Primarily a) nature/natural, b) manmade, c) artificial: Manmade primarily, plus a lifeform which seems to be an animal and not a human. Manmade habitat, this is not out in nature.

Describe the overall target site area: It seems to center around a house and a floor, yet the lifeform if it is a lifeform is central to what we have here, but the surroundings are all that manmade region and that house and architectural details.

Describe surroundings outside of target site: Not investigated.

Probable location on world map: Not investigated.

Emotions, ambience, feeling: The only thing felt was that the lifeform if it is that, intended to be hanging from up there where it is.

Significance and meaning of target: The element which may be a lifeform is hanging downward from its place of some elevation above the floor, and that it is in this region which looks like right up against a house.

What I think the target is,

- 1) An animal hanging downward, it is like a spider or a sloth without hairs, at the overhang right up against a house.
- 2) A house where the "lifeform" would be an architectural feature ornamenting the lower end of a roof or that the "lifeform" is a significant tree branch with "scaly" bark and twig fingers.
- 3) A part in a garden, the garden nature not there but the floor surrounded by fence and right up against the house.

Summary or additional explanations: Look for a house, or right up against a house, where there is an overhang frame that is square shaped with empty in the center, though, above this overhang frame was also seen the pointy V-shaped roof. Look for a floor instead of a natural ground. Water should not be significant. There is an interesting element at the floor but it is hanging downward above the floor from the overhang, or that it is hanging downward from the lower part of the roof of the house, whatever this is that is hanging down seems to be a lifeform because of the dark red which usually indicates internal tissue, it has got shreds hanging downward which have looked like bat wings or like fingers, at one time it also looked like a sloth hanging down with a downward arching back. The white fence posts sometimes seemed to be teeth in the lifeforms mouth, and I have also seen a few times two white eyes of the lifeform. It did not have any hairs when inspected. But I am not sure if it is a lifeform, it could also be architectural ornament at the roof or even a tree branch with twig fingers and scales being tree bark, but look for those shapes and see that it is hanging from just above the floor.

Look for a light yellow color especially if it is a vertical pole adjacent to the overhang or roof and house. The diagonal slope shape is very important, it is seen as the left-side slope of the upside down V-shape of fence post tops, but was also seen in the background itself drawn as the big light yellow slope.

The fence post thing with the pointy upside down V-shape, the repeated pattern of stacked rows of roof tiles or scales that can be pointy upside down V or that can be a repeated pattern of U-shapes, the repeated rows of U-shapes stacked on top were found up on the overhang but were also seen along the "lifeform's" "arms".
