Target WR28

Today April 24, 2019

Start 4:00 PM

Note: In the right margin shows part of the file name as "s-A2718588J.svg" this does not provide logic with any sort of clues so it should not ruin this session.

Oh, there is a little blue box on the floor. The lid is open. The outer wall is light blue, the inside is white.

I just saw a spoiler, in the upper right corner the file name can be seen it says "etalOresMinerals-A271..." so I have to end this session now. I will say that before I noticed that text I had several small items on the floor.

4:03 PM End RV.

Haha phew, this was one of those target images so no harm done, I am glad this one ended early. While it might be possible to remote view something accurately from such a target image, there is however no way to reference to the target image to see how well I did. No grade can be given.

4:03 PM End session.

No drawing was made because the session was ended due to the mishap of seeing part of the file name.
