Target WR41

Today April 27, 2019

Start 10:53 AM

I accidentally had the mouse cursor over the icon below so that created a popup of the target image, I have to therefore cancel this session. My first impression was of something black and with a serious strong sensation, and also of vegetation. The image I saw after that showed I think a house on grass.

10:56 PM End RV because of the mishap of seeing a small popup of the target image.

Oh wow, this one would have been fun, but oh well things happen.

However, I still give this a grade C based on what I already saw as initial impressions and based on what I would have drawn would have been a perfect grade C correlation of basic shapes, textures, and colors. No drawing was made.

10:57 AM End session.
