Target WR46

Today May 13, 2019

Start 4:29 PM

4:34 PM Secondary stage, interaction stage. Prefix "T" contains information from both tap and gentle probe.

4:39 PM End session prematurely, since my cursor hovered over the internet browser icon on the bottom margin of the computer screen, which brought up a small miniature version popup of the internet page, revealing a small sized version of the target image. End RV.

Oh wow, the yellow orb is there, it is a lemon. The shrub in the center looks like a person standing up, but that is not an acceptable match. I did not get far with probing on this target before the target was prematurely exposed. I still give this session a C because of the lemon and yellow orb. Grade C.

4:41 PM End session.
