Target WR51

Today May 14, 2019

Start 4:19 PM

Who are the people: They are talking to each other, standing still not walking, their hands in their pants pockets, long dark pants, they are all men, they are looking into the fenced in area they stand outside the fence, they are feeling optimistic positive happy and cheerful and are watching that which is within the fenced area.

What is in the fenced in area: It is something that lies on the grass, and that cup that is above it. The people are happy to see it.

Ok let's get serious. You have a yellow element on the grass, find out what it is. People are walking with their shoes on around it. The yellow element is low compared to the height of an adult person next to it. There is electronics, buttons and switches going on here. And we are doing something interesting. The yellow cup is a separate element and it rises up into the air just above the ground above it. The people are looking up at the yellow cup.

Inspect the yellow cup and find out what it is: There is heat coming off near it, like a red element consistent to a person that is separate from it in front of it slightly to the left. Go to the cup itself: There is a monitor screen inside the yellow cup and people are talking mumbling on the screen broadcast, it is a black and white broadcast, they are many people and they are talking cheerfully many are talking at the same time. Listen in to what they are saying: Oh they are so happy to be here, their eyes are wide open this is great for them! Their feet are on the ground at near the yellow element on the grass.

Inspect the yellow flower element: It is a shoe. It is hard and solid. Run hand across its underside: People are standing around it in a ring and are looking toward it.

Go to target signal, what element comes out: The low yellow flower element on the grass. Go to flower inspect it: People are happy to see it, they are standing around it in a ring. Go to stand with the people and look at the flower element from there: I see that something rises up from the flower like with a propeller. Go to yellow flower inspect it: It is on the grass. Its underside is flat.

Who are the people: They have newspapers, they are the press, journalism.

Inspect the yellow flower on the grass: It is being moved by a person. The flower is solid, it is not a flower but is flower shaped. It is very solid and is electrically charged when I stab it with a pen. People are watching and cheering loud and clapping with their hands when it lifts up with a small propeller. The people are smiling warmly. This is electronics, and about newspapers.

The cup bell is electrical manmade object, it feels cold and metal. There is grass underneath it below it. The flower is electric, metal. Inside the cup are screens that wrap around. Stay inside cup what else is inside the cup: It seems always open on the bottom like without a floor. They could be glasses, and that someone is looking at the yellow flower on the grass with their glasses, the glasses being the screens that see the people. There are papers here, and those are newspapers!

6:50 PM End RV.

People several. Outdoors. Grass. Electronics. And the other descriptors I have said. There is no water, no animals, nothing negative or harmful. I think it is electronics, some sort of vehicle technological that is being launched.

Well well, I have this affinity toward technology and electronics so no wonder I let myself spin in that direction. The grass is there, the fence is there in the right place, there are no humans but there are lots of sheep, the yellow cup with a screen is not there. The large tree has a shape similar to the yellow flower perhaps. I was wrong on labeling, and any hint of electronics makes me go that way because I love electronic targets. I will give this one a grade B.

ELEMENTS

IE. Yellow flower.

Is inside the fenced area and people come here to look at it. People come here to look at it. It is like a propeller. One of the yellow bulges is like the shoe of a person.

2. IE. Yellow cup above flower.

Inside the cup inner walls is a television screen on which I can watch a lot of movement and human activity. On the top of the inside I hear people chatter but don't see people so it is more like an electronic device which conveys speech. My hand does not run smoothly across the outer surface but is stopped by friction with the surface.

IE. Green grass around the flower.

IE. Fence diagonally across left side. There is a fence around this area.

SE. A playground.

2. SE. There is something here that people come to look at.

2. SE. Television screen or display screen curved and on the inner wall of the yellow cup.

2. SE. People speech like from a crowd. It sounds cheerful, not stressed or agitated.

The people are curious that is why they are here, they are curious about something, and they feel happy and cheerful and pleasantly surprised at what they see here. They stand with their hands in their pockets, the people are black and white like the 1940s.

SE. We are in a garden.

SE. People are standing here and watching.
